William Bartram in Florida, 1774
Edited by Helen G. Cruickshank
Published by Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. 1986. 162 pp., paper, $10.50.

In this edition of Bartram's Travels, Mrs. Cruickshank has selected the portions relating to Florida, added her comments on his observations, and identified plants, animals, and places with today's names. Then she put it in easy-to-read type and added some of Allan Cruickshank's photographs.

Recommended reading, especially if you have never tackled the small type and old writing style of the complete Travels.

Order from Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, P.O. Box 1604, Winter Park 32790. $10.50 incl. tax. Add $.75 for postage.

Dr. Edwin A. Menninger's Horticultural Books Inc. is a source of plant books not readily available elsewhere. His brochure lists several hundred books in 23 categories according to geographic areas and plant types. The dictionaries are of special interest and include Exotica, Tropica, Standard Cyclopedia of Horticulture (Bailey), and Hortus Third. The section on Florida includes numerous books on native plants. The brochure is available from Horticultural Books Inc., P.O. Box 107, Stuart, FL 33495.
