

Florida Native Plant Society
Cornelia McNamara Grant Application
Guidelines

General Information - The Florida Native Plant Society (FNPS) provides up to (1) Cornelia McNamara grant annually of up to $1,500. FNPS does not pay for indirect costs associated with a grant project. The applicant does not have to be a FNPS member. After the grant project has been completed, the grant recipient is expected to summarize the results (including photographs) in one of two ways: A poster or presentation at the annual FNPS Conference, which is typically conducted in May, or a written summary in the FNPS publication, the Palmetto.

FNPS Cornelia McNamara Grants - FNPS maintains a Cornelia McNamara Grant program to fund applied research on native plants and habitats, particularly those that are rare or imperiled. These are small grants ($1,500 or less), awarded for a 1-year period, and intended to support research that will yield data to inform the management for or restoration of native species and habitats. The grant is open to FNPS members, Chapters, colleges and universities, and the public, but with a preference for FNPS members or Chapters.

Questions about the Research Grants program should be sent to: info@fnps.org.

Submittal Information - Submit completed applications by March 5, 2021 to qualify for the current calendar year's application cycle. Applications must be submitted via email in either Microsoft® Word document or Adobe® pdf format to info@fnps.org.

Award Process - The FNPS Committee will review submissions and recommend a maximum of (1) proposal for a Cornelia McNamara grant to the FNPS Board of Directors for approval. Applications must be complete for a project to be considered for funding. Persons or organizations with on-going FNPS grants are ineligible.

Submitters will be notified via email whether they have received a grant award or not by May 2021. The FNPS will announce the award recipients at the annual FNPS conference (applicants DO NOT need to be present) and in the Palmetto publication.
